PCT/EP2004/002527

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-10	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-10	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-10	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

The closest prior art (US-A-5 825 287) shows a brake lining wear indicator. The brake actuators are used to acquire particular data.

The problem addressed by the present invention can be seen as that of how to detect wear more precisely, since in the prior art it is only possible to detect the total wear.

The solution according to the invention involves acquiring data for both the inner lining and the outer lining. This produces a continuous differential wear reading for the brake. The idea of acquiring wear readings for both the inner lining and the outer lining is not obvious from the prior art.

Box No. VIII Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

The description is not consistent with the claims (PCT Rule 5.1(a)(iii)).

Contrary to the requirements of PCT Rule 5.1(a)(ii), the description does not cite US-A-5 825 287 and also fails to give an account of the relevant prior art disclosed therein.
